

OLD AGE STARTS WITH YOUR KIDNEYS

Science says that old age begins with weakened kidneys and digestive organs. This being true, it is easy to believe that by keeping the kidneys and digestive organs cleansed and in proper working order old age can be deferred and life prolonged far beyond that enjoyed by the average person.

For over 200 years GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil has been relieving the weaknesses and disability due to advancing years. It is a standard old-time home remedy and needs no introduction. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil is included in odorless, tasteless capsules containing about 5 drops each. Take them as you would a pill, with a swallow of water. The oil stimulates the kidney action and enables the organs to throw off the poisons which cause premature old age. New life and strength increase as you continue the treatment. When completely restored continue taking a capsule or two each day. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules will keep you in health and vigor and prevent a return of the disease.

Do not wait until old age or disease have settled down for good. At the first sign that your kidneys are not working properly, go to your druggist and get a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Money refunded if they do not help you. Three sizes. But remember to ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand. In sealed packages.

Disappearing Service.
"No," said the commuter. "I'm not making any complaints about the road."

"Then you are satisfied?"
"I won't say that. But the last time I complained about my trip they took that train off the next day."

Lift off Corns!

Doesn't hurt a bit and Freezone costs only a few cents.

With your fingers! You can lift off any hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the hard skin calluses from bottom of feet.

A tiny bottle of "Freezone" costs little at any drug store; apply a few drops upon the corn or callus. Instantly it stops hurting, then shortly you lift that bothersome corn or callus right off, root and all, without one bit of pain or soreness. Truly! No humbug!—Adv.

INSISTED ON QUICK ACTION

This Father About as Sensible as Many Who Expect Wonders From Correspondence School.

Henry P. Davison was talking about the numerous correspondence courses in five lessons—each lesson to be mastered in one evening over the after-dinner cigar—which teach a man how to become a Napoleon of finance.

"You can't learn to be a Napoleon of finance or anything else so easily," he said. "These courses remind me of the man who brought his son to the school of mines and growled:

"I want you to learn this here boy to be an expert minin' engineer, but look a-here—I don't want him to waste his time over a lot of book nonsense about strata and denudations, and don't bother him with mineralogy and crystals, neither. What I want him to learn is how to find gold and silver and copper in payin' quantities—payin' quantities, mind you—and I'll call for him and put him in to work Monday a week."

Somewhat Slighted.

"After all," remarked Methuselah, "my long life has been a good deal of a failure."

"Merely because you kept out of politics?"

"No. But it does seem to me that I've been at least entitled to an occasional interview as to whether or not I attribute my longevity to abstinence from strong drink and tobacco."

Keeping Up the Good Work.

"My friend," remarked the practical man, "you can't reform the world by passing resolutions."

"But we don't stop there," answered the professional uplifter. "You have no idea of how a set of good, strong resolutions inspires the rank and file with new confidence to tackle the problems of the day. Particularly after we get them published in the newspapers."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

Done to a Crisp.

A few friends of mine were over to spend the afternoon. I had a cake in the oven baking, as I was keeping house while mother was out of town. During the conversation I told them what a good cook I made, and how I had never wasted or burnt anything. We were busily talking one-half an hour later when one guest exclaimed: "I smell your cake!" Needless to say, it was burned to a crisp.—Exchange.

Nothing Doing There.

Noislessly, but with all his might, the burglar tugged away at the dressing table drawer.

In vain. It refused to open. He tugged again.

"Give it another jerk," said a voice behind him.

The burglar turned. The owner of the house was sitting up in bed and looking at him with an expression of the deepest interest on his face.

"Jerk it again. There's a lot of valuable property in that drawer, but we haven't been able to open it since the damp weather began. If you can pull it out I'll give you a handsome royalty on everything that's—"

But the burglar had disappeared through the window, taking part of the sash with him.—Pearson's Weekly.

Thrive, Too

Joseph Hergeshelmer was talking at the Authors' club in New York about the copyright law, which deprives a writer and his heirs of any remuneration from his work 58 years after its copyright.

"We authors," said Mr. Hergeshelmer, "have little to fear from the bolsheviks. Our work has always been treated as under bolshevik regime."

"But, then, literary artists," added the talented writer whimsically, "have the consolation that their work lives after them. Look at Rubens! He painted a thousand pictures, yet there are something like four thousand in existence today!"

Two Masters.

"You cannot serve two masters," "I understand that you cannot serve schooners after now."

SOCIETY GIRL AS STOWAWAY

APPEARS OUT AT SEA

Daughter of Illinois Lawyer is Heroine of Remarkable Experience—Appears for Relief Failed to Secure Passage for Her

Peoria, Ill.—Playing the unique role of society girl stowaway, Miss Josephine Weil, daughter of Joseph Weil, prominent in legal and political circles here, gave the smart set a distinct shock when she related her extraordinary experience, following her arrival home from San Francisco.

Stories of travel among the languorous islands of the southern Pacific ocean always have an appeal, but the interpolation of a society girl stowaway is something so far out of the ordinary that even the most cautious and story-surfelt globe trotter will probably give attention to the remarkable narrative of the Peoria maiden.

Mrs. Weil and her daughter left Peoria in May for California and, after a short stay on the coast, sailed for Honolulu.

Decides on Stowaway Role.

When they were ready to return to the states they were startled by the information that the United States government had commandeered all of the larger steamships for the return of troops and the smaller had reached the limit of their accommodations, reservations being made months ahead.

Cabled appeals for relief were followed by diligent effort upon the part of Congressman Ireland of the Peoria district. He was advised that 670 Americans were at Honolulu, including Mrs. Weil and daughter, all anxious to return home. A message from Governor McCarthy of Hawaii was the only response, stating that passage could not be procured much before October.

Miss Josephine was much disturbed by this situation. She is a student at an eastern college and anxious to commence her school duties.

Becoming convinced that it was impossible to obtain a passage before fall, Miss Weil, with the approval of her mother, decided upon the role of stowaway. She was well supplied with money and, seizing an opportunity to enter the hold a few hours before the steamer Venezuela cast off, she hid in a nook until the vessel was out of sight of land and there was no chance to set her on shore again. She then made her appearance, much begrimed, and proffered the captain the money usually required for the passage across.

There was nothing to do but accept the money and the situation with the best grace possible. Miss Weil was given quarters with the wife of the purser and the journey was an agreeable one. The other passengers lionized her for her nerve and originality and believe that she has the distinction of being the first society girl stowaway in the history of ocean-going vessels.

Miss Weil will be the heroine at a round of social events here before she leaves for the eastern school. Her mother was apprised of the safe arrival home of her daughter and the former has cabled that she expects to sail from Honolulu some time in September.

"Is Mr. Gadsplan planning any poker parties while you are away this summer?" asked Mrs. Gribbling.

"Oh, no," answered Mrs. Gadsplan. "My husband doesn't play poker."

"Umph! I dare say a little strategy would prove quite the contrary."

"How?"
